

WORKSHOP ON SHORT SALES FOR REAL ESTATE PROFESSIONALS

Monday, April 23, 2012 | 9:00a.m. – 10:30a.m. CDT

The U.S. Department of the Treasury (Treasury), with our partners at HOPE NOW, HUD, and NeighborWorks America, is bringing “Help for Homeowners” Community Events to Illinois and Indiana in April. These events offer the chance for homeowners having difficulty paying their mortgages to meet with servicers and housing counselors to get help. Realizing that staying in the home is not always an option, we’ve added a very important opportunity – a Workshop on Short Sales – for real estate professionals and housing counselors to learn more about short sales as a foreclosure prevention strategy. If you work with homeowners on short sales, you can’t afford to miss this event.

SHORT SALES WORKSHOP & WEBINAR FOR REAL ESTATE PROFESSIONALS

In this information-packed session, we’ll explore just about everything you need to know about executing short sales in today’s marketplace. Hear directly from servicers about the most effective ways to get your short sale offer approved, navigate the process more smoothly, get help with difficult cases, and close the deal faster. Also hear from Treasury about Making Home Affordable’s HAFA program. Don’t miss this opportunity to get all of your questions answered.

This session is not open to homeowners.
